Here are some key reasons why and how fonts matter. Adds Character. Just like handwriting can say a lot about who we are, designers use fonts to express similar traits. For example, a cursive or looped font can express elegance and delicacy, whereas a thick sans serif font can represent a bold personality.

Why Fonts Matter, and how they impact your mood. Typography might just help you date, solve obesity and impact your mood; so we've learnt from type fanatic Sarah Hyndman. We've previously dubbed her "the one woman tour-de-force behind the Type Tasting enterprise", which looks at the power typography has over our lives and senses. She's now published a new book on the subject, Why Fonts Matter, and has kindly offered us an extract looking at the effects of typography on our emotions.

The classic answer would be: sans-serif fonts for titles, headings, and serif fonts for the content. Used as a pair, the two types of fonts ensure the needed contrast. But even so, you must be very careful so that the result doesn't look odd or exaggerated. Imagine a combination between the Old Style and a geometrical Sans.
